'Happy New Year' Means Work For These Folks

The first day of the New Year will find these Salem people at work as usual. It will be no holiday for them since their jobs come under the category of public service.

They'll probably celebrate moderately tonight so that Friday morning, when you're sleeping later than usual, they can be back at work.

Such will be the case of Ohio Bell telephone operators like Mrs. Francis Gleckner, Mrs. Lowell Brandt and Catherine Everett (first photo) or Paul Beery, ticket agent at the bus terminal seen talking (second photo) with a Greyhound Bus driver whose holiday runs are usually crowded.

360 Traffic Deaths Seen For Weekend

Speeding Major Factor In Holiday Accidents

CHICAGO (AP)—Beware of the speed demon when you celebrate the coming of the new year. A survey by The Associated Press today indicated this type of motorist was responsible for roughly one third of the near-record 523 highway deaths that occurred on the nation's highways during this year's three-day Christmas weekend.

And not far behind was the highway caredevil. This was the driver who disobeyed regulations—crossing the center line, passing on hills and curves, and crowding the tail of the car ahead. This type caused another fifth of the deaths, the survey indicated.

In order of frequency, other major causes of traffic deaths during the Christmas weekend were: pedestrian carelessness, poor weather or road conditions, intoxication and disregarding traffic signals.

The speeder is a year around problem. Records of the National Safety Council show excessive speed was the greatest single cause of fatal traffic accidents during the year.

The AP survey of police records of Christmas accidents in each of the nation's geographical regions showed the high price paid for excessive speed was not limited to any single area.

Speeding was blamed officially for 9 of North Carolina's 22 traffic deaths, 4 of New Jersey's 23, 18 of California's 48, and 9 of Illinois' 27.

Excessive speed thus was the cause of 40 of the combined total of 120 traffic deaths in the four representative states.

Commenting on the findings in the AP survey, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, which has forecast a possible 360 highway fatalities for the New Year's weekend said:

"The old saying that the faster you go the harder you hit should be pasted on the dashboard of every automobile. Every driver should remember that his risk of death goes up as his foot goes down on the accelerator.

"The Associated Press survey shows that holiday accidents are not any different from everyday accidents. Speed is the most important driver violation in fatal accidents every day of the year. So, for this New Year's weekend and for every day of the new year slow down and live."

The daredevil type who ignored regulations and warnings was blamed for 24 of the 120 Christmas traffic deaths in the four representative states.

Nineteen of the 120 deaths surveyed were attributed to pedestrian carelessness.

Collectors over the county are Roy Johnson, Center Township; Mrs. Betty Houlette, Fairfield; Charles Cunningham and Yvonne Cunningham, Butler; Neil Lippincott, West; Mrs. Lucille Duke, Perry; Don Moser, Hanover; J. A. Madison and Liverpool; Jack Vincent, Salem; Anderson Pugh, St. Clair; Glenn Saviers, Unity; Clarence Borton, Knox; L. G. Karns, Franklin and John Hull, Wayne.

Indians Count Prisoners, 135 Chinese Ask To Return Home

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Indian troops made a year-end head count of Chinese war prisoners in their custody today and 135 of the 4,385 checked asked to return to Communist China.

An Indian spokesman emphasized that the count was not a screening and did not substitute for interviews, which ended Dec. 23. However, Indian guards gave prisoners wishing to return home every chance to ask for repatriation.

There was no indication whether the count would be extended to the pro-Communist North Camp, which holds 22 Americans who refused to return home.

Nor was there any indication whether the count would be extended to North and South Koreans or the one Englishman in custody. The 135 of 4,385 tally was about 3.1 per cent, approximately the same as for the 10 days when prisoners attended explanations.

County School Board Will Meet On Jan. 16

The Columbiana County Board of Education will hold its annual reorganization meeting Jan. 16 at 1 p.m. at the Lisbon Courthouse.

Chief items on the agenda will be the election of a new president and a vice president, a review of the financial statement of 1953 receipts and expenditures, and seating two new members.

The new board will consist of Lloyd Farmer, 1953 president, and Ben Weingart, both of RD 2, Leetonia; John Lucas of RD 1, Salineville; and new members, Emory Holloway of RD 2, Hanover and Ronald Hoopes of RD 2, Salem.

Holloway and Hoopes replace Charles E. Hall of RD 2, Minerva and Foy Wright of Rogers.

The 12 school boards in the county system will hold their reorganization meetings Monday.

Knowland, Ike Disagree On Contract Shift

WASHINGTON (AP)—Disagreement has broken out between President Eisenhower and his chief lieutenant in the Senate, Sen. Knowland of California, over a new Administration program to combat unemployment.

Just a week before the opening of Congress next Wednesday, Knowland called the new policy a disappointment and said he would back legislation to modify it. He took that position in the face of Eisenhower's statement two days ago declaring "complete agreement" with the policy.

Whether the disagreement would affect Knowland's attitude toward other White House policies could not be foretold.

The policy is designed to steer some government defense contracts into areas plagued by large scale unemployment.

Southern Democrats voiced bitter outcries of protest over the program, similar to one put into effect by the Truman Administration in 1952 and dropped last August.

Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said in a

Bond Posted By Shoulders On Perjury Charge

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Former Police Lt. Louis Shoulders, a veteran officer who has survived investigations in the past, now is prepared to fight a federal perjury indictment in an aftermath of the Greenlease kidnapping.

Shoulders, patient and smiling for photographers, posted $10,000 bond here yesterday to remain free while awaiting a call to Kansas City by federal authorities. The bond was posted for Shoulders by a professional bondsman.

The date of Shoulders' arraignment has not yet been announced, but his attorney, Henry G. Morris, told newsmen:

"If it becomes necessary to enter a plea, it certainly will be one of not guilty."

It was Morris, too, who said Shoulders would fight the perjury charge "all the way" and will "meet the issues as they come."

A Kansas City grand jury Tuesday charged in its indictment that the 35-year-old former St. Louis police officer gave false testimony in describing his handling of a suitcase containing a portion of the record $600,000 Greenlease ransom money.

A little more than half of the ransom still is missing.

Gay New Year's Celebrations Tonight; '54 Peace Hopes High

By The Associated Press
The gayest and biggest New Year's Eve celebrations since the end of World War II were in prospect in many of the great cities of the world tonight—sparked by the hope that perhaps peace will have a better chance in 1954.

In Moscow, the sales of champagne tripled in comparison to last year's holiday period. And from New York to San Francisco, the greatest crowds of the postwar years.

Along with the hoop-la, many planned to gather in churches for watch night services bidding farewell to the old year and praying for the peace, health and prosperity that 1953 did not assure.

And as America planned to go forth for its usual jolliment, the National Safety Council broadcast its usual grim reminder. It predicted a possible 360 highway fatalities for the nation's three-day holiday weekend.

Local Leaders Map '54 Polio Fund Campaign

After 16 years of research, an anti-polio vaccine is ready for nationwide validity tests, and between 750,000 and 1,000,000 second grade children will be inoculated beginning in February.

This was learned at a meeting Tuesday evening when committee members for the 1954 "March of Dimes" campaign met at the Presbyterian Church. The drive will begin Saturday and extend through Jan. 31.

Howard Firestone of Albany Rd. and Attorney Bryce Kendall of 513 W. 6th St., local co-chairmen, will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Zarbaugh of 565 Franklin St., representative of the Business and Professional Women's Club in charge of solicitation; Archie Bricker of 1475 E. 11th St., special events; John Herman of 581 Wilson, house-to-house canvass; and James Primm, Jr., of 240 W. 16th St. in charge of distributing containers.

John C. Little of 754 E. Third St. and Donald Shay of East Liverpool are county co-chairmen; Harold Musser of 366 S. Lincoln Ave. is county treasurer; and Mrs. Winifred Byers of Albany Rd. is county secretary.

Cold New Year's Eve Predicted For Midwest

By The Associated Press
The northern Midwest shivered again today in sub-zero cold and some blowing snow.

The rest of the north central region also was on the chilly side and light snow fell along the northern tier of states from Minnesota to New England.

It looked like a cold New Year's Eve in most of the Midwest with another batch of cold air headed into the region on New Year's Day.

1st General Tax Cut In 5 Years To Go In Effect

WASHINGTON (AP)—Uncle Sam presents a New Year's gift tomorrow to more than 50 million individuals and 50,000 corporations—the first general tax cuts in five years.

Starting tomorrow, these three big changes will give a new look to the government's revenue structures:

1. Individual income tax rates will drop about 10 per cent for all except the highest brackets, chopping three billion dollars annually off federal revenue.

2. The excess profits tax on corporations will expire, reducing government income about two billion dollars annually.

3. The social security payroll tax, levied on both employees and employers, will go up from 1 1/2 to 2 per cent. It is collected on the first $3,600 paid annually to a worker. That will increase income to the special social security trust fund by almost 1 1/2 billions annually.

Drives already have started on two fronts to give even bigger breaks to taxpayers during the congressional election year of 1954.

Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, has said the 10 per cent income tax cut is not enough and he hopes for another reduction as soon as possible. Reed also called for cuts later this year in corporate income and excise or sales taxes.

The Eisenhower administration has asked that the social security tax increase—the only immediate thorn in the rosy picture of tax reductions—be canceled.

Altogether, almost 60 million individual income taxpayers will benefit from the 10 per cent reduction. But in the lowest income tax brackets, the social security tax increase will amount to more—leaving a net loss in take-home pay for about 10 million workers.

Economists have been saying the income tax reductions should spur consumer buying and help ease threats of any business recession next year. And for corporations, death of the excess profits tax

Beggars Crowd Near Churches

Thousands Of Beggars In Russia Are Really 'Professionals,' Reds Explain To Writer

Editor's Note—This is the fourth of a series of uncensored and revealing stories by William L. Ryan, a Russian-speaking specialist who has just returned from three months in the Soviet Union.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Soviet Communists have a ready explanation for almost anything.

Are women doing the heaviest of toll? It's because they have "equal rights."

Are a surprising number of people going to the churches? Only old people really attend any more and besides there is "freedom of religion."

But for the many beggars seen in the capitals of the Soviet Union, there is a unique explanation. They are all "professionals."

Some of these "professional" beggars looked miserable. A young mother in Stalinabad, capital of the Tadzhik republic, sat on a curb, nursing her baby. There was agony in her face as she cried for alms.

Another young mother—she couldn't have been more than 19—sat on a landing in the big department store on Lenin street in Kiev, capital of the Ukraine. She, too, clutched her baby in her arms and begged for kopeks. Most of the crowd of shoppers passed her by without a glance.

I walked extensively through a half dozen Soviet cities and found many beggars of all ages. I asked about them and each time was told they were professionals. Often that seemed quite possible since they were congregated near the few churches still in operation, their hats on the ground beside them, seeming quite sure that the church's laws of charity would work in their favor.

But many of the beggars are the halt, the blind, the infirm and the aged. They gather pitifully few kopeks from passing crowds, even near the churches.

It seemed impossible to get any accurate information on why these people do this in a society which claims to have outlawed poverty. Beggars in Moscow often live in the streets and alleyways and try to find shelter at times in the Metro (subway) stations. Police frequently are seen turning them out in the small hours of the morning. Some live in cellars near or under a church, or in tumbledown shacks outside city limits.

I found beggars in every city I visited. In Alma Ata, the snow-bound capital of Kazakhstan, many congregated at the end of Kalinin street near the still-operating Russian Orthodox Church.

In Tashkent, capital of the Uzbek republic, some of the crippled beggars on Lenin street had homemade means of locomotion such as boards on wheels. I counted 10 beggars one afternoon in a single half hour's walk along Pushkin street, where there are many new apartments of the swankier middle class set. I saw beggars in pairs, working together. I saw one ancient, bearded man holding a little decoy, shouting for help for her. The child looked half starved.

In Tbilisi, capital of Georgia, a large number of beggars congregated at a big Georgian Orthodox Church just off the main street. In Kiev, capital of the Ukraine, beggars, men and women, swarmed about the entrance to Andreievsky, Cathedral, still in operation as a place of worship. They haunted the Lavra, the ancient Ukrainian seminary in the heart of Kiev. I saw tottering old beggars along Shevchenko street and Lenin street, two of Kiev's main thoroughfares.

In Moscow there are beggars to be found in many places, but once again particularly around places of worship. They swarm about the main Jewish synagogue, one of four said still to be in operation, and about the 50 or so churches throughout the capital.

Communists insist all this represents only the remnants of the Czarist regime—which died away 36 years ago. The churches, too, are placed in that category.

Russians say there are 55 Orthodox churches in Moscow today. This would mean, on the basis of probable population, about one church for every 125,000 persons.

The churches invariably are overcrowded on church holidays. There are fairly large numbers of young people, middle-aged and well dressed people and even army officers at the services. This held true throughout the provinces. But it is also true that in the main, those who attend the church services are old people and women. If there are children present, it is because the women brought them.

There are no young people at all to be found in what churches remain for sects other than the Russian Orthodox. The Roman Catholic Church, in the shadow of Lubianka prison in Moscow, has only old men and women in attendance at services conducted by a Lithuanian priest.

Friends Group Feted In Canton

The Daascus Quarterly Meeting of Friends Ministers Association was entertained Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. William Springer of Canton.

Rev. Paul Brantingham of Winona read the scripture and R. S. Coppel of Alliance offered prayer. The program in charge of Mrs. Russell Myers of Canton consisted of Christmas music led by Bryan Teague of Brewster, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Paul Brantingham of Winona. Tape recordings of greetings from the Friends missionaries in India were heard.

Walter Reider of West Park Church in Cleveland used the theme "The Layman's View of Soul Winning." The showing of a sound film and a discussion followed.

A dedication service for Mr. and Mrs. Springer's new home was held, with Dr. Walter R. Williams of Damascus and Rev. Russell Myers of Canton participating.

A lunch was served by the hostess to 22 present from Brewster, Canton, Alliance, Damascus, Bandy, East Goshen, Winona and Deerfield.

Arrange Farm Meetings For Next Week

Farm folks have a big week out for them beginning Monday with an agricultural meeting scheduled for every night except Friday. Two are set for Wednesday.

Here are the week's meetings as announced by Floyd Lower, county farm agent:

Monday — The Columbiana County Rural Health and Safety Council executive committee will meet in the Lisbon Library at 1:00 p.m. to plan a health council meeting to be held Jan. 26 and to transact other business. Mrs. Curney Converse of Columbiana RD 2 will have charge.

Tuesday — An expert in cattle reproduction, Roger Morrison of Ohio State University, will speak on "Problems of Breeding" at the annual meeting of the Columbiana-Mahoning Dairy Herd Improvement Association at 1:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall here. Directors will be elected.

Wednesday — A look will be taken at projects and aims of the county Agricultural Extension Service when the quarterly meeting of the County Extension Advisory Committee is held in the courthouse at 8 p.m.

Wednesday — Guernsey breeders of Columbiana and Mahoning Counties will meet all day at Heck's Restaurant near Columbiana.

Thursday — "The Outlook for Agriculture in the Year Ahead" will be the topic of a lecture by Riley S. Dougan, farm economist from Ohio State at a general meeting at 1:30 p.m. at St. George's hall in Lisbon.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

It isn't all bitters on this beat. There are grins too. And there's no better time than New Year's to round up the chuckles which were drowned out by the louder and grimmer daily news.

During this past year, for example: It was a spiritless Christmas season for hundreds of American workers now building the U.S. airbase at Hahran, Saudi Arabia. These men, so far from home, were without the vintage which cheers, because the Arabian king withdrew the special dispensation needed to drink beer and wines within airbase boundaries there.

Molsem law prohibits the use of any alcoholic beverages. Breach of this religious law brings six months imprisonment and 50 lashes—or deportation.

So the boys have been slipping out to the Bahrain Islands for a drink and a weekend. But this seems over now. Arabian authorities now smell the breath of returning construction men—and have arrested some although they had no bottles.

The charge was "transporting liquor into the country in their stomachs." For this three Americans were deported . . .

THE 3-D MOVIE camera helped the teamsters union as well as the box office. Because the sunbaked cow town of Moab, Utah, had terrific cliff shots for the new dimensional movies, Hollywood rushed there for cowboy pix shooting.

At first the ranchers rented their horses to the film companies for $2 a day. Then they learned that they could join the AFL Teamsters as wranglers.

They did. And they collected the union wage of $1.94 an hour . . .

In Cuba, the Culinary Workers Union found it had millions in its worker's retirement fund. It decided to build a 10 million dollar air-conditioned hotel to make a profit. Not trusting itself to employ and negotiate with labor in the tough and efficient fashion needed to make a buck, it hired the Hilton Hotels International Corp. to run the 550-room holstry.

In Tokyo, the purveyors of a proletarian paradise were embarrassed when 55 members of the Communist party announced they weren't being paid enough "to continue our fight for Communism," and threatened to strike and shut down the party newspaper, "The Red Flag" . . .

WALTER REUTHER, CIO thought he knew all about CIO, went out to the woodworkers convention and returned a comodore. This was the rank given him by this CIO union which, he discovered, actually has a little navy of its own.

The union needs the ships to get its organizers out to the logging camps on isolated islands along the coasts of British Columbia and Vancouver Island . . .

For the first time in union history, a contract was signed guaranteeing workers a ten-minute "coffee break" each morning and late afternoon. This was in a pact between the Minneapolis AFL Machinists and the Baker-Lull Corp.

The company furnishes the coffee and cream. This formalized a trend throughout industry revealing that efficiency men believe that the "coffee break" makes for more efficient production workers.

In turn, this trend is creating a new industry, the coffee, milk and soft drink vending machine business which Dave Beck's teamsters soon will unionize. The machines are put in to prevent the time-consuming dispersal of men and office workers to nearby soda parlors and drug stores . . .

TO KEEP IT clean the company and its union agreed in writing not to insult each other. Emil Rieve's CIO Textile Workers and the Ensing Bickford Co. agreed to a contract clause which said:

"The union agrees that it will not publish or circulate any false or misleading remarks about the company, its products, its officers or other personnel, and the company agrees that it will not publish or circulate any false or misleading remarks about the union, its officers or other members" . . .

Some 800 Scottish mine workers threatened a coal strike, which might have spread into a serious national tie-up of all mines, if the pit owners did not force one union member to take a vacation—which he didn't want.

The recalcitrant union member, Willie Farrell, said he liked to work. That was apparent. He had been putting in seven days a week for the past 12 years. But union is union.

He finally took a vacation when the union insisted that all its members "enjoy" the benefit it fought so hard to secure . . .

MILLIONS of Londoners held their breath while two English Mike Quills threatened to tie up all transportation in the British capital. The issue was portentous—who would unscrew last year's license plates off the trolleys and buses.

Both the transport workers and the vehicle builders union claimed jurisdiction. The screw situation was settled when they finally shared the work. Nobody walked . . .

The End

By LAURA HOBSON

Thinking of this, the last day of 1953, I got musing about a couple of words that must be the most changeable ones in the English language:

"The End."

They can be sad or gay; they can be spoken with relief or grief; they can spell finality or only a transition to what lies ahead.

When a sick child comes through a crisis and the doctor says, "Well, that's the end of any danger," your heart leaps at the most blessed words you've very heard spoken.

When you pay the last installment on an old debt or long-drawn-out bill, you exclaim, "It's the end of it," and you feel like doing a jig.

THE END of the fighting in Korea, the end of your son's draft service, the end of rationing, the end of prohibition, even the end of a dull commercial on a radio or TV show—all of them fill you with varying quantities of satisfaction or joy.

"But 'The End' can also be two heavy bronze bells tolling tragedy and pain.

When an engagement is broken off or a marriage fails, you think, "It's over; it's the end," and you may know not only grief but the most bewildering of human questions—Why? Where did it go wrong?

When you're fired from a job and start cleaning out your desk or locker, you say, "That's that," and whether you're relieved or secretly scared of the future, you know that the end of any job is a milestone in your working life.

DEATH IS "The End" on the most profound level of all and when it comes to someone we love, only an unshakable philosophy or religious faith helps us face the awful finality of it with courage.

There's finality, too, in graduation day for your son or daughter—yet the end of long years of schooling is always an occasion for congratulations and hope and laughter.

DEC. 31 also says "The End." Every year on this day, millions and millions of human beings on the globe, whether they know they're doing it or not, consciously or unconsciously feel in their bones some sort of farewell.

The lucky ones also feel some sort of hello, hi, a new start, a fresh beginning.

Lucky ones—not only the young, not only the well-fixed, nor the happy, nor the secure, but all those people with an inner reservoir of confidence and energy and inquisitiveness about what the months ahead will toss up at them.

To them, the last day of 1953, like the last day of any year, is not the end, but merely "period, paragraph," in the long continuing chapters of the story.

One flip of a page and the new chapter begins . . . accompanied by the ringing of bells and blowing of horns, by kisses at midnight and a few measures of Auld Lang Syne.

Tonight's new chapter is called, "1954." Good reading and a happy ending.

'54 May See Ohio Planning 2nd Multi-Million Dollar Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The new year may find Ohio planning a second multimillion dollar turnpike.

Two members of the State Controlling Board indicated today they would approve a $90,000 "loan" from highway funds to survey a Cincinnati - Conneaut route for a 400 million dollar toll road.

But they conditioned their approval on assurances that Ashtabula, Lake and Geauga counties would receive consideration in plans for a 300-mile turnpike linking Kentucky and a New York state thruway extended across Pennsylvania to northeastern Ohio.

The three counties want the new turnpike routed along Lake Erie North of U.S. 20 before swinging south of Cleveland to intersect near Strongsville with the east west super - road now abuilding across northern Ohio.

"The three counties should be a part of the survey," said Rep. J. Frank McClure (R - Ashland), chairman of the House Finance Committee. "Unless that is done," he added, "I will remain opposed to release of survey funds."

Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R - Muskingum), Senate Finance Committee head, said he would "go along" with McClure.

Both legislators have blocked release of survey money since Highway Director S. O. Linzell asked for it last summer at the request of the Ohio Turnpike Commission. Linzell is an ex-officio member of the commission.

McClure and Moorehead are members of the controlling board by virtue of their posts as chairmen of finance committees in their branches of Legislature.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes, a board member, invited Linzell to discuss turnpike plans with the legislators in the hope of dissolving objections in advance of a Jan. 7 meeting of the controlling board that could release survey funds. Linzell said he would oblige.

Also invited was Rep. Ross G. Sweet, Painesville attorney and former judge. He plans to present the views of northeastern counties.

They fear the new turnpike would run too far south of Lake Erie to substitute for a proposed freeway. A Lakeside turnpike, they feel, would make a freeway unnecessary and thus ease the burden of that expensive construction.

CITY ANNEXES PLANT

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Middletown City Commission last night made annexation of a 60-acre tract of Armco Steel Corp., property official. It passed an emergency ordinance which will make the property part of the city on Jan. 1. The land and steel plant will add 17½ million dollars to Middletown tax duplicates.

Barbara Hutton Weds Playboy Rubirosa

NEW YORK (AP)—Heiress Barbara Hutton was married yesterday to Porfirio Rubirosa, international playboy and Dominican Republic diplomat. It was her fifth marriage and his fourth.

A 10-minute civil ceremony, conducted in Spanish and English, ended several days of speculation that the marriage might be called off.

The slim, pale, 41-year-old bride was all smiles as the wedding rites began, but toward the end she became visibly nervous. Rubirosa, 45, tall, handsome and composed, put a comforting arm around her.

The marriage was performed by Dr. Joaquin Salazar, Dominican consul general, in his Park avenue apartment.

The bride, in a black taffeta dress, contrasting with her blonde hair, was attended by her 17-year-old son, Lance Reventlow, her only child.

Rubirosa's best man was Maj. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Martinez, head of the Dominican air force and onetime brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Rubirosa previously was married to Flor Trujillo, daughter of the Dominican Republic's first family; French actress Danielle Darrieux; and Doris Duke, heiress to a U.S. tobacco fortune.

Miss Hutton, known for more than 20 years as the dime-store heiress, formerly was married to the late Prince Alexis Mdivani; Count Kurt von Haugwitz-Reventlow; actor Cary Grant; and Prince Igor Troubetzkoy.

Miss Hutton became a citizen of the Dominican Republic Tuesday in order to go through the ceremony under Dominican law and invoking Rubirosa's diplomatic status as Dominican minister plenipotentiary to France.

A New York City official said, however, that without a New York license such a marriage ceremony was open to legal question so far as state records were concerned.

At a hectic press conference in her Hotel Pierre suite prior to the wedding, Miss Hutton answered "certainly" to a query if her considerable fortune would remain in her own hands.

As for Rubirosa, he said: "What property she has is hers, and what property I have is mine."

During the interview Miss Hutton appeared distraught at times. Once she remarked:

"Do you think anyone will give him credit for loving me because I'm myself?"

It was in France last July, they said, that their romance actually began, and Miss Hutton added:

"I loved him from the moment I met him."

Rubirosa said Miss Hutton brought into his life "something grand."

Statements by actress Zsa Zsa Gabor that Rubirosa asked her to marry him within the past week brought this retort from Rubirosa: "It's a publicity stunt."

Asked to comment on Miss Gabor's assertions, Miss Hutton replied:

"I'm terribly sorry. I don't know her. I happen to be a lady. I'm terribly sorry."

She sighed and added, "I've been crucified these past few days."

Did she expect her fifth marriage to last?

"I wouldn't try if I didn't think so."

Tax Cut Percentages

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is what tomorrow's cut in individual income taxes will mean, on an annual basis, to taxpayers in selected income groups:

For a single person with no dependents, the percentage reduction in tax is 9.9 per cent at $2,000 income. It climbs to 10.7 per cent at $10,000 income and then drops to 7.3 per cent at $50,000 and 1.9 per cent at $300,000.

For a married couple with two dependents, the percentage reduction starts at 9.9 per cent at low income levels, climbs to 10.7 per cent at $20,000; then drops to 7.4 per cent at $100,000 and 1.6 per cent at one million dollars.

The minimum rate on taxable income drops from 22.2 per cent to 20 per cent. The maximum rate on income above $300,000 drops from 91 to 90 per cent. And the total rate for any one taxpayer's over-all income drops from 88 to 87 per cent.

Baltimore Removes TB From Its Major Killers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Tuberculosis has been removed from the list of "major killers" for the first time in the medical history of Baltimore after a 31 per cent drop in the death rate of the disease.

Dr. Huntington Williams, health commissioner, said the decline, "truly phenomenal," was due primarily to a home-care program and the social and medical advances of the past 10 years.

Although the number of cases of tuberculosis in Baltimore for 1953—1,393—was almost as high as the 1,493 listed in 1952, the number of deaths fell from 416 last year to 280 in 1953.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—An unemployed ex-convict, Clarence Skaggs, 32, has been charged with second degree murder in the Christmas morning slaying of Lonny R. Thompson, 18. Police said Skaggs admitted shooting Thompson in an alley behind the Club Brazil in an argument over who should pay for drinks.

Bus Driver Gets 3 Tickets In 1 Mile

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bus driver Delaney Williams, 32, hit the traffic jackpot yesterday. He got three tickets for violations committed in less than a mile of driving.

The charges were the same in each case: failing to pull his bus to the curb on discharging passengers.

Patrolman Clement Kramer notified the driver of the first offense. He said he then followed him in his patrol car and Williams did the same thing twice within the next eight blocks.

Police Chief's Sensitive Nose Leads To Arrest

IDABEL, Okla. (AP)—The sensitive nose of Police Chief Sam Sellers twitched to the odor of raw moonshine.

Chief Sellers and Patrolman H. A. Lockwood, parked in their cruiser on an Idabel street yesterday, gave chase when a pickup went by, trailing the tell - tale smell familiar in the southeastern Oklahoma mountain area.

They stopped the truck and found a 50-gallon still plus a large quantity of corn whisky mash hidden in back. Two men were arrested.

14 Teen-Agers Arrested For Smoking Marijuana

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Fourteen teen-agers arrested in a candy shop across the street from Central High School have confessed to smoking marijuana, police reported.

Admissions were made before their parents, officers said, and the mother and father of one youth were so upset they are "pulling up stakes and moving to another city to start all over." Officers said the father wept openly. There was one girl among the 14.

Cooper Heads Top 10 Movie Money-Makers

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marilyn Monroe, who has won citations from many Army and Navy units, today was awarded box office honors too. She was named among the top 10 money-makers of the screen.

She was chosen among the winners by the Motion Picture Herald's 22nd annual exhibitors' poll. Here are the top 10 in order:

Gary Cooper, Martin and Lewis, John Wayne, Alan Ladd, Bing Crosby, Marilyn Monroe, James Stewart, Bob Hope, Susan Hayward and Randolph Scott.

The poll points up the fact that Hollywood has been lax in developing new stars. Monroe is the only new name on the list, which is dominated by male stars of action films and musical comedy.

The next 15 money-making stars placed in this order: Doris Day, Ester Williams, Margery Main, Percy Kilbride, Gregory Peck, Ava Gardner, Clark Gable, Burt Lancaster, Jeff Chandler, Jane Wyman, Abbott and Costello, Stewart Granger, Jane Russell, Charlton Heston, Humphrey Bogart and Rita Hayworth.

The selections of top western stars showed the dearth of horse operas for the program market. In former years the top 10 were chosen. This year only five were named: Roy Rogers, Gene Autry, Rex Allen, William Elliott and Allen (Rocky) Lane. Neither Rogers nor Autry, who have shared the one-two position for many years, is now making theatrical films. Both are active in TV.

Trucker's Death Reveals He Had Three Wives

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—His "routine investigation" following the death of a 64-year-old Philadelphia truck driver has had "developments," reports Albert Rosenblatt. The developments are "three marriages and not a single divorce."

The truck driver, Samuel Johnson, died last week.

Rosenblatt, special deputy investigator for the city health examiner, identified widow No. 1 as Mrs. Mary Johnson of Greenville, S. C., and widow No. 3 as Mrs. Inez Johnson of Philadelphia.

The first woman married Johnson in 1913 and the Philadelphia woman became Mrs. Johnson in 1943.

And, according to Mrs. Mary Gary, a sister of the deceased, sometime between the two marriages came Mrs. Orrie Dodson Johnson. Her whereabouts, Rosenblatt said, are unknown.

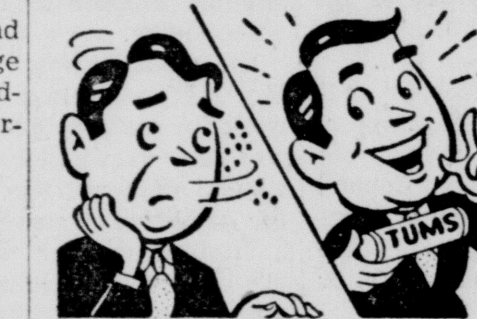

POLICE CHIEF RESIGNS

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief Kenneth George resigned yesterday effective Jan. 1. Mayor-elect Glenn Penn said he asked the resignation because he was dissatisfied with the way George conducted his office. George, police chief since May 1952, gave no reason for resigning.

The Jet Plane Era

At the close of the year-long celebration of the Wright brothers' development of engine-propelled flight in 1903, the president of the Aircraft Industries Association has revealed these significant facts:

During 1953, the industry produced more jet-engined than piston-engined planes;

It has produced its last piston-engined fighter plane;

It expects to produce its last piston-engined
bomber in 1954.

Thus, only 50 years after the Wrights made aviation history at Kitty Hawk, a new era of flight has materialized.

The possibilities of flight with the kind of power they used in the Wrights' experiment have been exhausted. The same compulsion to develop aviation for defense which brought them their much-needed government subsidy has speeded the development of a new kind of power with possibilities that stagger even the resilient imaginations of plane designers.

To those of us who try to keep abreast of aviation on a catch-as-catch-can basis it's hard to believe, but the jet era which was on the horizon at the end of World War II already has reached its zenith.

Hitler To Adenauer

Time Magazine's choice of Konrad Adenauer
as its "man of the year" comes just 15 years
after its choice of Adolf Hitler.

Basis of the selection is the individual's impact on current history. From Hitler to Adenauer marks the time between two resurgences of German strength.

In 1938, Germany dominated Europe as its strongest nation. It used its domination under Hitler's evil genius to plan and execute history's most disastrous war, in which its own people and cities received cruel punishment.

But though defeated in battle, as they also had been defeated in World War I, the Germans were not defeated in spirit. In 1953 they again were the strongest society in Europe.

The impact of Adenauer on current history has come about through his promise to use Germany's new power for Europe's development instead of its destruction. He is a Christian leader with firm faith in a democratic philosophy.

Under Adenauer, Germany might not be the aggressor in World War III.

Under him and successors who believed in the same things, Germany could be the central core of a united Europe whose combined resources would balance the weight of the Soviet Union.

Competition Comes Back

It had been said so often during the boom years that things would be different when competition came back that the warning lost its punch.

It sounded like a cry of "Wolf!"
Now that competition has returned, there's as much consternation as there was when the wolf finally came out of the hills.

Statisticians and economists are tremble-fingered
as they pore over their charts.

Politicians greet each fresh sign of decline
from war-boom frenzy with chirps of reassurance or bleats of alarm, depending on which side of the street they're working.

Businessmen swallow hard and put up a brave front. Those old enough to have survived in an era of competition are solemn about doing it again. Those too young to know anything about competitive enterprise in the prewar pattern are panicky.

The only people taking the prospect of competition in their stride are the ordinary run of men and women.

To them it seems as natural as tomorrow's dawn that the boom had to fade away eventually; that value should be restored to money;
that people with things to sell should have to sell them in competition, instead of merely taking orders.

They are not panicky about competition. They believe in it. They realize that some of the waste needs to be cut out of certain operations;
that certain materials like steel aren't going to be in short supply any more; that the gravy train in on a siding; that time and a half and double time are as hard to find as casualty lists.

They see nothing frightening in this. Some of the politicians, statisticians and economists who seem to be trying to start a panic because more goods and services from now on will have to be peddled to consumers under competitive conditions instead of being taken over by the U.S. government should study more human nature and less arithmetic.

We don't need statistics to tell us that the average run of motorists is too fast per hour on icy streets.

You can't blame some bosses for being cranks. That's the only way they can get things started in the morning.

Challenging Thought

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Pope Cites Benefits And Dangers Of Era

Of all the statements, speeches and declarations that have come from the statesmen of the world in the last few days apropos of the holiday season, none contains a more poignant message than that conveyed by Pope Pius XII on Christmas Eve. Its full text has just been cabled and made available here by the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

As is customary, His Holiness speaks in phrases general and implicit, but the meaning sometimes has a direct bearing on pending governmental policies in various countries as they relate to world peace.

The Pope condemned the "technological spasm" of the age and decried the materialism that has swept the world as a sort of substitute for spiritual feeling.

HE SAID that present criticisms are not to be understood as condemnation of technological progress in itself, because "The church loves and favors human progress." He added:

"Nevertheless, it can hardly be denied that this technology which in our century has reached the height of its splendor and fruitfulness is, through certain circumstances, changed into a grave spiritual danger. It seems to give modern man, prostrate at its altar,
a sense of self-sufficiency and satisfaction of his boundless thirst for knowledge and power."

"Our grave fears for Europe are stirred by the repeated disappointments which the sincere desire for peace and a relaxation of tension cherished by these nations has for years met with; this is also due to a material approach to the problem of peace. We are thinking particularly of those who judge that the question of peace is technological, and consider the lie of individuals and of nations from a techno-economic standpoint.

"The materialistic idea of life threatens to become the rule of conduct of certain busy peace agents, and the mainspring of their pacifist policy. They think that the secret of the solution lies in bringing material prosperity to all nations through constant increase in productivity and in the standard of living. A hundred years ago, another similar formula aroused the absolute confidence of statesmen, with free trade, lasting peace."

THE POPE went on to say that "No materialism was ever an apt means to establish peace" because "peace is above all an attitude of mind, and only second-arily an harmonious equilibrium of external forces—so it is an error of principle to entrust peace to a modern materialism that corrupts the essence of man and stifles his personal and spiritual life."

From the foregoing it could be inferred that the Pope believes that peace can come only by bringing the Soviet peoples into an attitude of mind that recognizes the dangers of the materialism to which the present rulers of Moscow are dedicated. It is a challenging thought.

Just as this writer finished reading a copy of the cabled text of the Pope's message, there came to hand a letter from an officer on active duty in the U. S. Air Force. He wrote:

"As a member of the United States Air Force, I am very proud to be a part of the strongest material force preventing the Communist from laying waste our country and bringing to our homes the misery that encompasses such a large percentage of the world's population today. However, I fully realize that our physical strength is nothing without a firm moral and spiritual backing, and as a plain ordinary American citizen, I sometimes feel quite humiliated at the way our leaders in Washington are so afraid to stand up for moral principles.

"WE CONDEMN the Soviets for what they did to Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, but with tongue in cheek we write them off as being unfortunates who happened to live too close to the Soviet Union.

"We condemn the Chinese Communists and North Korean Communists for their brutal massacres of thousands of United Nations personnel, but we do nothing to balance the scales of justice.

"I wonder how proud Captain Harold Fischer and the other 900
old Americans are of their countrymen who are either too afraid or too unconcerned over their 'expedient' lives to act in the American tradition and fight for their freedom. Indeed, we now are starting to get 'conditioned' to accepting the Chinese Communists into the United Nations."

"I hope enough of our leaders in Washington will realize what our present soft-pedaling of principle is doing to our future generations to do something to correct this unfortunate and tragic situation."

Critics Of Press

By RAYMOND MOLEY

It is becoming quite evident that in one respect at least the Eisenhower administration is following precedent. It is working up a peeve against the press.

The signs of this are reported by newspapermen who are in daily contact with the departments in Washington. It was especially noticeable in the words and attitude of Harold Stassen when he faced the inexorable "Meet the Press" panel on December 27.

More than once he asserted that the press had misinterpreted his own and Secretary Dulles' position on foreign relations.

In particular he asserted that the press has given the impression that Mr. Dulles' speech before the North Atlantic Council was a threat to the French Government to get in line with the European Defense Community or go without help from us.

SO FAR AS I have seen accounts of that speech in a number of newspapers, it was accurately reported.

The salient sentences were: "If,
however, the European Defense Community should not become effective; if France and Germany remain apart, so that they would again be potential enemies, then indeed there would be grave doubt whether Continental Europe could be made a place of safety. That would compel an agonizing reappraisal of basic United States policy."

If there was any other way to report such diplomatic language,
Mr. Stassen did not state it. He contented himself with quarreling with a generality, "the press," without specifying how the misrepresentation had been made.

IT IS TRUE that Stassen has always been a very serious man.
His smiles seem to be born in painful labor; his humor is sterile.
But in the particular appearance to which I refer he seemed unusually grim and touchy.

Clearly, he was using the appearance not to answer questions but to get a message over to the country. And a sizable part of that message was that "the press" was not giving him or the secretary of state or the president a square deal.

There are bound to be occasional flareups among members of the Washington corps of correspondents, such as the complaint about the breaking of the news of the Warren appointment by the attorney-general to a favored few reporters. But there is no occasion for generalized charges of press misrepresentation.

Indeed, the President has had what seems to me a very good press, and he seems to appreciate
it. For he has made no charges of misrepresentation, and his press conferences have been generally amiable.

HIS DECISION to allow recordings to be broadcast and to permit direct quotation was admirable.
After all, the President is entitled to speak for himself to the country.

However, this situation presents nothing new. F.D.R.'s bitterness toward most publishers is well remembered. He mixed his denun-ciations of publishers with a friendly attitude toward their correspondents.

His attitude was "You are fine boys. It's too bad you have to work for such people." The result was an exceedingly good press which, after all, was a tribute to the publishers' sense of fairness.

Truman was at war with the press generally, claiming on every possible occasion that it was part of the infamous "interests." He claimed also that the press always lost elections.

But it requires little thought to realize that in the long period of one-party government it was the position. And that opposition now and always will be the best defense against bad government.

Some types of bears grow to weigh as much as a ton.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

George hasn't had a drink since we snapped that candid
Year's Day!

May We Hopefully Suggest

New Dawn In 1954

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

This can be said for 1953: it was a year that ended without a shooting war, except in Indochina, where the war has become hot again. In these troubled times, disturbances

were abundant but not shooting. Korea remained a seat of disorder, but the prolonged truce talks continued throughout the year and led to nothing. The talk was plentiful; the results were trivial. The State Department has not yet learned that Soviet Russia uses even talk as a weapon of war.

True, a slight outbreak occurred between the Jews and the Arabs,
the Italians and the Yugoslavs.
Kashmir remains a danger spot and the relations between India and Pakistan continue antagonistic. But in 1953, fewer people were killed in wars to most of which they were related without their direct consent.

THE UNITED STATES lost in a measure its position of world leadership. The nations of the British Commonwealth, particularly Great Britain, Canada and India, asserted a greater degree of political independence, although Great Britain continued to accept financial and other economic aid from this country.

In France and Italy and nearly every other Western European country, neutralist movements of massive dimensions developed as a response to the challenge of prospective war.

Actually such movements were aimed more at the United States than at Soviet Russia as these countries were supposed to be allied to the United States and partly dependent upon its bounty.

In Latin-America, neutralism became a serious menace. President Eisenhower sent his brother, Milton, on a trip to Latin-America

countries to study the situation
first hand.

IT WOULD appear that in some of these countries, particularly the Argentina, Milton Eisenhower's ministry was of value to the United States.

The President also sent the vice president, Richard Nixon, on a trip to Asia. The results of Nixon's trip are not yet known.

In Latin-America, Communism
state coming into existence in Guatemala and in British Guiana.
The British killed off the Marxist state in British Guiana with excellent ruthlessness, but Guatemala is as Marxist as Communist China. The same forces are moving into Honduras and Costa Rica.

The evidence is clear that the Roosevelt "Good Neighbor Policy" was a flop in these countries and that while the United States was fussing all over Europe, it neglected its front door.

THE SPREAD of Marxism is to anticipated in other Latin American countries to which the Kremlin has devoted its energies for more than two decades.

The absence of a shooting war gave the military authorities in the United States the opportunity to review and revise our military plans and policies.

Atomic warfare has altered the strategy and logistics of war just as the use of gunpowder produced vast changes in its time.

The nature of war is determined by the character of the weapons employed and the means of producing and conveying those weapons.

Under Admiral Arthur W. Radford, our military policies are being revised to meet changing factors and conditions.

This will undoubtedly result in the reduction of military manpower, the increase in planes in the Air Force, and submarines in the Navy.

In a word, our military establishment is being made over from a sentimental to a practical operation. I use the word, sentimental,
in the sense that the infantrymen,
who have generally controlled the Army, over-emphasize footsoldiers despite new conditions.

SHOULD NO shooting war occur in 1954, it ought to be possible to balance the budget, which could help to stabilize the dollar and lower taxes.

It is even more important to stabilize the dollar than to lower taxes, because the advance of the value of the dollar can overcome a high tax rate. In 1953, the American dollar was worth about 50 cents.

At the beginning of the Eisenhower administration, George Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury, announced a sound fiscal program, which he has not been able to carry through to any degree in 1953. It is hoped that he may achieve much of it during 1954, if the country can avoid a shooting war.

If to that is added a reduction in foreign aid and the elimination of waste in the executive branch of government, the value of the dollar may be sufficiently increased to restore confidence in its future.

A Happy, Healthy, and Thrifty
New Year to all!

1954 Inventory

By TRUMAN TWILL

To each man, woman and child comes a time for inventory.

At the beginning of this new year,
my list is as follows, not necessarily in the order of importance:

Some of the most loyal and most understanding friends who ever graced the earth with attributes of generosity, forbearance and patience.

The best family for its weight, height, breadth and depth ever bestowed on a No. 1 boy who never learned to take family responsibilities seriously.

The most restful scenery to look at while eating breakfast which a man who tires easily of mountains and is over-awed by water could ask for and which would be a darned sight better if someone would wash the windows.

The most conveniently arranged place to work ever provided for a fellow who slaves over a hot typewriter and needs some reference books handy to find out how to spell "desiccated" and when the Titanic sank (April 15, 1912).

Two of history's most devoted dogs, each equipped with a canine sense of humor to keep him from deteriorating into a lallygagger, plus the cherished memory of a third dog who died last summer in a pattern of utter and absolute courage.

A life which so far hasn't needed to be stored up in a sagging corner with some artificial hobby to keep it from losing its original design.

A minimum of aches, pains, symptoms and signs of impending doom, as appraised on a comparative, instead of an absolute, basis.
A childhood and a boyhood which produced no regrets, no desires for revenge, no scores to even and no old sores to thump and throb when he social temperature changes.

A task to perform in the day-inand-day-out routine of working to live which never yet has become so humdrum and routine that going to it once more has been like the "galley slave scourged . . .
etc."

A fine head of skin neatly framed in what remains of a once find head of hair, lending an air of erudition to a fake who barely squeaked through a rudimentary course of education in a day when educators weren't choosy.

A list of 24 projects to tackle if the chance ever comes, each requiring a couple of years of undivided attention, such as refinishing furniture, reading Stringfellow Barr's list of classics, learning to play the piano and building and equipping a garage suitable for home maintenance of the family Taxmobile.

A faculty for being diverted, instructed, amused and improved by anything in these lines of endeavor or which is done with ordinary competence, including amateur theatricals, home-made music, old movies on television and any magazine ever published.

A boisterous appetite undaunted by nothing commonly placed on a table, except cucumbers.

The discovery, made years ago and only lately being made by others, that a lower middle-class family can live above its means by doing for itself some of the jobs which otherwise would have to be done expensively by others.

An uncomplicated outlook on life,
free from fixations of fear.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Forecast For 1954

JANUARY—Jose Ferrer will add the role of Eliza, Uncle Tom and Mickey Mouse to his repertoire. Ava Gardner and Frankie Sinatra will be reported separated or reconciled or something. Bill Zeckendorf will buy the Hudson River. There will be talk of cleaning up Broadway. The new manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers will be threatened with dismissal on a rumor
he talks over his future with his wife.

FEBRUARY—There will be talk of cleaning up Broadway. Senators will discuss the causes of juvenile delinquency in a hotel room overlooking a blazing electric light sign on a cheap movie house specializing in crime pictures for children's matinees. The chairman will have to give up his room in another hotel because of a previous reservation by a writer of TV blueprints for criminal routines. Ava Gardner and Frankie Sinatra will be reconciled or separated or something. There will be threats to deport notorious American gangsters from a dozen cities.

MARCH—President Eisenhower will take six golf lessons and add nine more strokes to his game. There will be threats to deport gangsters. A couple of million cops in American cities who should be protecting the public from stickups, safe-crackings, assaults, etc., will be detailed to check parking meters. Ava and Frankie will be reconciled or something. Peiping will demand that Panmunjom name Russia
the Neutral of the Year.

APRIL—The size of the beer glass will be reduced. Color TV will be said to have been perfected. There will be threats to clean up Broadway. Bill Zeckendorf will buy the George Washington Bridge.

MAY—The Brooklyn Dodgers will be off to a 10-game lead but the manager will be in danger of deportation following a report he and his wife discussed his value to the club.

JUNE—There will be threats to clean up Broadway and talk of deporting notorious gangsters.

JULY—There will be meetings to discuss the juvenile delinquency problem, each meeting keeping hands off any of the really clear and obvious causes on the ground the box office is more important than the degradation of a child.

AUGUST—Ava and Frankie will be reported reconciled or something. There will be meetings to discuss juvenile delinquency with all clear and obvious causes excluded. There will be threats to clean up Broadway.

SEPTEMBER—Color TV sets will be reported near. Soviet Russia will back up a couple of wars on the free world and insist it is a neutral.
Bill Zeckendorf will buy Times Square.

OCTOBER—There will be talk of deporting notorious gangsters.

NOVEMBER—See October.

DECEMBER—Ava and Frankie will be reported reconciled or separated or something.
There will be threats to clean up Broadway.
The last of the whopping cranes will arrive in Texas from Saskatchewan. There will be talk of deporting gangsters. The new manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers will be exiled for mentioning next year to his wife.

Thomas Hayward, a Kansas City tenor, who won the Met auditions in 1945, got his big chance as "Faust" the other night when Bjoerling, the star, took sick. . . Got great notices, too. Who says Kansas City boys can't sing?

President Eisenhower has been given one of those new TV sets by Mr. Sarnoff and in addition to his other trials he may now have to see Adlai Stevenson in color.

Looking Backward

FROM THE NEWS FILES

FIVE YEARS AGO—Mr. and Mrs. A. H.
Schropp of 290 W. Seventh St., have opened their home this week so that youngsters and adults may have the pleasure of seeing the farm, home and railroad scene beneath their Christmas tree. The display takes up half the living room. Mr. Schropp, a pattern-maker has made many of the buildings.

Columbiana

Council Closes Year's Business

Estimate Of County Tax Monies Received

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana council met in adjourned session Tuesday evening to conclude the business and payment of bills for 1953. Council will hold its first meeting of the new year at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

Amounts stipulated by the county budget committee to be received by the village next year, based on the payment of all taxes, were accepted. On the special one-mill levy for Firestone Park, the town will receive $6,630, or .8 of a mill under a state ruling that the original levy was voted on the old valuation and that its renewal is on the same basis. If the ballot last fall had specified just a special levy instead of specifying a renewal, the full one-mill levy would have been collected.

Originally the one-mill levy was figured to produce about $5,000 in tax revenue, and the increased revenue from only .8 of a mill reflects not only the increased valuation, but the growth of the town. The pension fund will receive $4,975 and the general fund $1,906.

Purchase of 150 feet of new fire hose by Fire Chief Harvey Hisey was reported. Mayor Walter Thomas and Street Commissioner Carl Spratt recommended that Council begin to consider the purchase of a new grader and a new street roller. The present machines were purchased about 20 years ago when WPA work was in progress, and it is now almost impossible to get parts for them.

A NEW CONTRACT for 1954 with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hetric for receiving fire and police calls at their home, 47 W. Salem St., raises their pay from $60 to $75 a month, with a vacation of one week.

Renewal of the contract for mutual fire protection was received from East Palestine. Officials there said it had been overlooked.

An invitation from the park board to the mayor, clerk, solicitor and council for a dinner at Heck's Restaurant at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday was accepted. Raymond Spiker and Raymond Snoke, retiring councilmen, thanked the other members for their courtesy.

The board of affairs met simultaneously to close the business of the year.

It was the last meeting for Ray Harold, who has been a town official continuously for 30 years. With the exception of one term as a member of council, his service has been with the board of affairs. He has built and occupied a new home southeast of town in Fairfield Township. His successor on the board will be John Barrow.

Plenty of business awaits the board in 1954 in connection with the addition to the water softener plant at a cost of $158,000. No bonds will have to be issued.

THE COLUMBIANA postoffice set a new high record this year with its volume of Christmas mail. Sent from the Columbiana office were 190,161 pieces of first class mail and Christmas cards, which the regular clerks and carriers handled with the aid of 12 extra assistants.

Patrons of the office gave co-operation by mailing parcels and cards earlier than usual, says Postmaster S. E. Tidd. This enabled the postoffice force to have all the local mail delivered the day before Christmas.

Two truck drivers, cited by the State Highway Patrol, were fined a total of $281.40 by Mayor Walter Thomas, Tuesday evening, for overloads of steel.

Joseph Wocovsky and John Peck, drivers for the Transport Motor Express of Fort Wayne, Ind., were fined, respectively, $163.70 and $117.70 for loads in excess of weight limits.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Todd, just home from Germany, are spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Todd, 268 S. Main St., and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Knag and family at Flint, Mich. Todd has just completed his second enlistment in the U. S. Air Corps, 11 years in all since 1940, and will begin work next Monday for the Glenn Martin Aircraft Co. in Baltimore.

Joe Alan Burkhardt, 21, of Columbiana, who has been serving in the Navy since September, 1951, and stationed since October, this year, with the fleet training group at Norfolk, Va., has been advanced to boatswain's mate, third class. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Burkhardt, he is a graduate of Columbiana High School.

State Police To Post Warnings On Autos

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—State patrolmen will place a pink slip resembling a traffic citation on every car parked tonight by places selling alcoholic drinks. It reads:

"Why take a chance? If you have been drinking and drive, you could take a life or lose your own; land in jail and lose your driver's license for one year."

The island of Jersey in the English channel has kept the breed of dairy cattle of the same name pure through laws forbidding cattle imports dating back to 1763.

Rehearsals For 'The Messiah' To Get Underway January 7

Rehearsals for the presentation of "The Messiah" by singers from churches of Salem are under way Thursday, Jan. 7, at 8:30 p.m. in the Salem Methodist Church.

Engagement Announced Of Miss Betty Haessly

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Haessly of RD 1, Salem announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty, to Robert Hall, son of Mrs. Virginia Hall of Seneca, Pa.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Haessly is a graduate of Goshen Union High School. Her fiancé is a graduate of Seneca High School and is employed at the Universal Pottery of Cambridge.

Doce Gatos, Alumnae Have Reunion Dinner

Members and former members of the Doce Gatos Club met Monday night for a reunion and dinner at the Coffee Cup.

Red candles, pine and colored bulbs decorated the table which was centered with a wrought iron sleigh filled with miniature Christmas packages.

Ministers of the Salem and Vicinity Ministerial Association are sponsoring the chorus which will present its program Sunday, March 7. The ministers ask for volunteers from their pulpits.

All singers reporting to the first practice are requested to bring their Messiah books.

At the next meeting of the Ministerial Association Monday morning in the Public Library, Rev. John Bauman will lead the devotion and Rev. Robert E. Moser will discuss "Expository Preaching."

Other meetings of the association scheduled through May include:

February 1, devotion, Rev. Paul Brannan, with talk by Rev. George D. Keister on "Meaning and Purpose of Lent"; March 1, devotion by Rev. Earl Brooks with paper by Rev. David Mair on "The Message of Easter for Our World Today."

April 12, (a week later than regular date) devotion by Rev. A. L. Carter with message by Dr. C. Frederick Fowler, Lenten speaker; and May 3, devotion by Rev. James B. Cooper and topic discussion by Lts. Shirley Brown and Elsie Betts on "Salvation Army Work Among Children and Youth."

Girl Scout Council To Elect Officers

SOC — Girl Scout council ... The annual meeting of Salem Council of Girl Scouts will be held Thursday, Jan. 14, following dinner at the First Baptist Church. The membership - nominating committee of the council has prepared the following slate of officers for election:

Treasurer, Mrs. Paul Harrington; camp chairman, Mrs. J. Brooke Votaw; cookie - calendar chairman, Mrs. Clifford Todd; Juliette Low chairman, Mrs. Amli Cosma.

Organization chairman, Mrs. Charles Mosher, Jr.; program chairman, Mrs. Carl Smith; public relations chairman, Mrs. Henry A. Loria; service chairman, Mrs. Fordham Benson; training chairman, Mrs. Edward Zilav; member-at-large, Mrs. William Winter. Miss Mary Hollinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hollinger of E. State St., has selected Thursday, Jan. 7, as the date of her wedding to Jerome Lepping, son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Lepping of N. Ellsworth Ave.

Rev. Fr. Richard Gaffney will officiate at the ceremony at 11 a.m. in the sanctuary of St. Paul Church. No invitations have been issued but custom of open church will be observed.

The bride-to-be has chosen Mrs. Robert Lepping of Salem, sister-in-law of her fiancé, as her matron of honor. Tom Scullion of Salem will be best man.

Miss Hollinger was honored at a pre-wedding shower party arranged by Mrs. Louis Raymond in her home on N. Lincoln Ave. Personal gifts brought by her friends were found by the bride-elect beneath the Christmas tree.

Holiday Program Held By St. Paul Guild

Gifts were presented Rev. Fr. Richard Gaffney and Rev. Fr. Edward Varble at the Tuesday night holiday supper meeting of members of the Senior Guild of St. Paul Parish in the school basement.

The members took part in the grab-bag exchange. Miss Ann McLaughlin impersonated Santa Claus. Miss Jean Lieder was accompanist for carol singing and card games were included in the entertainment.

In the bingo games, prizes went to Mildred Simon, Helen Yuhank, Margaret and Josephine Kieko, Mary Fink and Rose Albert. Plans are not complete for the next meeting which will be Friday, Jan. 29.

Miss Joretta Roof To Wed In June

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roof of Alliance, formerly of Salem, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joretta, to Charles Durell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Durell of Alliance.

Miss Roof, who is the granddaughter of Mrs. May Ehrhart of 328 S. Ellsworth Ave., has chosen June 10 for her wedding date.

CUB MEETINGS SET

The pack meeting of Cub Scouts of Greenford will be held on the first Thursday of each month at 7:30, according to plans made at a recent meeting.

Yule Party Is Held By Amvet Auxiliary

Mrs. Earl Schory won a special prize Tuesday night when the Amvet Auxiliary held a Christmas party at the post home. A gift exchange and a covered dinner featured the party. Members of the auxiliary filled a "gift basket" which will be given to a needy family on New Year's Day. The next meeting of the group will be Tuesday, Jan. 5.

Hanoverton Couple Wed Forty Years

A Sunday dinner at the Avalon Restaurant in Hanoverton came as a 40th wedding anniversary surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Leland E. Faloon, who have spent all their married life in that village.

Emma Darling of Kennedy, N.Y. and Leland E. Faloon of Hanoverton, who were married Dec. 30, 1913, have four children — Mrs. Louis Weirick of Salem, Mrs. Walter Holmes of Winona, L. Duane Faloon of Hanoverton and Mrs. James Lowry of Minerva.

The couple's children and seven grandchildren were included in the family get-together at the Avalon. In recognition of the anniversary, the table's centerpiece included miniature bride and groom figures, whose faces were 40-year-old photos of Mr. and Mrs. Faloon.

Surrounding the dolls in the small sleigh were tiny packages. The children presented their mother with an orchid. A large bouquet of red roses, presents of money, other gifts and cards were received by the Faloons after the party sojourned to their home.

Guests congratulating the couple through the afternoon came from Hanoverton, Salem, Cleveland, Minerva, Alliance, Winona, Sebring, and Lisbon. At the guest register was Lois Ann Weirick, the Faloon's eldest granddaughter.

Among the guests were Forest Mason, superintendent of the Fairmount Children's home, and Mrs. Mason. Mr. Mason was best man at the honored couple's wedding.

Ruby, the 40th anniversary theme, was the color of the cloth used on the refreshment table in the Faloon home and a three-tiered wedding cake was served the guests, along with ice cream inscribed with "40."

Mr. Faloon operates the Sales and Service Co. in Hanoverton. Both Mr. and Mrs. Faloon belong to the Presbyterian Church there, and to Guilford Grange. Mrs. Faloon is a member of Hanoverton Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

Kathryn Joann Sharp To Wed Robert Parks

Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp of Franklin St. announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathryn Joann, to Robert W. Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Parks of Greenpastures Drive, Towson, Md.

The marriage will be an event of Saturday, Feb. 20, in the First Methodist Church in Towson. The Sharps will attend their daughter's wedding there.

Miss Sharp, who attended Leontia and Salem High Schools, is a graduate of Salem Business College and is employed by Lorch-Haven Drug Co. at Towson. Her fiancé is a radio engineer, employed in Baltimore where they will reside.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cleland and daughter, Kim, of Chicago, spent the Christmas holiday with Mr. Cleland's parents of N. Roosevelt Ave., and with his sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. James Mayhew of Morris St., and Mr. and Mrs. Don Cannon of E. 6th St.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Steffel of Aetna St. spent the Christmas holiday in Pemberton, N.J. with Pfc. Victor Lake and his wife.

Miss Grace Ellenberger, former director of religious education at the First Presbyterian Church here, and now holding a similar position at the First Presbyterian Church in Kalamazoo, Mich., visited Monday and Tuesday with Salem friends.

Miss Vera Mae Jarrell of Charleston, W. Va., fiancée of William Weber of S. Union Ave., is a holiday guest in the Weber home.

MEETING IS SCHEDULED — All directors and alternates of the Salem Federation of Women's Clubs will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Ruth Smucker House.

Notice!

Perry Twp. Group Elects 1954 Officers

Officers for 1954 were elected at the Tuesday evening meeting of members of the Perry Township Advisory Council in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parker on the Newgarden Rd.

Mr. Parker, retiring president, officiated when Hugh Gibson was elected his successor; James Cunningham, vice president, and Mrs. Gibson, secretary, Galen Greenstein will serve as discussion leader and Mrs. Donald Combs will be publicity chairman.

Following the business session, Mr. Greenstein led in the discussion "How Can We Learn to Live Longer?"

Mrs. Parker was assisted in serving lunch by her sister, Mrs. Ethel Davis. Monday, Jan. 25, will be the date of the next meeting, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Combs on the Newgarden Rd.

Waggin Tongue Group Holds Dinner Party

Mrs. George Conrad entertained fellow members of the Waggin' Tongue Players of the Newcomers Club at a beautifully - appointed pre-Christmas dinner party in her home on the Albany Rd.

A big Christmas tree added beauty to the holiday setting. Mrs. Conrad covered the buffet table with a dark green cloth and used contrasting red cloths on the smaller tables where she seated her 12 guests.

Host to the group was Mrs. Conrad's six-year-old son, Bobby. He assisted his mother as did a guest, Mrs. A. P. Schmauch. Candles, pine and colorful trimmings added to the setting.

After the dinner the group manufactured various types of holiday earrings from "makin'" provided by the hostess. They took the earrings home as favors.

Miss Sarah Senior To Wed Alliance Man

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Senior of Belmont announce the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Margaret, to Stephen P. Yendrick Jr. of Alliance. He is the son of Mrs. Foster Monti of Medina and Stephen P. Yendrick Sr. of Youngstown.

Miss Senior is a senior at McKinley High School in Sebring. Her fiancé is employed at the Alliance Machine Co. No date has been set for the wedding.

NOW THAT . . .

The HURRY AND FLURRY of Christmas is over, you will want to settle down and make your plans for 1954.

MAYBE you are thinking of selling your old home and getting a new one?

MAYBE you have a large house and want a smaller one?

MAYBE you want a chicken farm, a dairy farm, or just a home in the country — or MAYBE you want a business of some kind?

We have homes of all kinds and sizes, farm, large and small; acreage, lots, businesses. MAYBE if you let us in on your wants, we can help. So make a New Year's Resolution, watch our ads, come in and talk over your wants. We will be glad to assist you in any way possible. See Burt C. Capel or Richard G. Capel.

Recognition Services Held By Churches

Recognition services for students home from college and servicemen home on furlough were held Sunday morning in the Damascus and Bunker Hill Methodist Churches.

At Damascus, Ed Durbin and Miss Lucinda Hole, students at Mount Union College, participated in the service.

Three of the boys serving in the armed forces who received recognition are Ed Steer, Robert Morton and James Barclay. Larry Miller was present Sunday, Dec. 20.

Robert Morton and James Barclay acted as ushers for the service Sunday morning.

Bunker Hill

At Bunker Hill, Miss Evelyn Greenamyer and Rev. Charles Moore, former students at Asbury College, had charge of the service. Rev. Moore brought the message on the subject "The Value of a Christian College to a young person and to the local church."

Thirty young people from Bunker Hill and Damascus met at the Damascus Methodist Church Sunday evening.

Ed Durbin led the devotions on the theme, "What it means to be a Christian."

After the worship service, the young people went to the church basement to view motion pictures.

For their social hour, they were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. E. K. Barss at the parsonage.

Christmas carols were sung and refreshments were served by Mrs. Barss.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Romero of Albuquerque, N.M. left Wednesday morning after a holiday visit here with Mrs. Romero's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ovington of the Goshen Rd. On their way home, they stop at Kansas City, Mo. to see Miss Naomi Simpson, aunt of Mrs. Romero.

Tale Of Big Wind Storm Wins World Champion Liar Award

BURLINGTON, Wis. (AP) — Mr. use a bottle of fresh water, with Bee McIntyre, Richmond, Va., a liar with a penchant for detail, was named today by the Burlington Liars Club as World's Champion Liar for 1953.

He won with this tall tale: "The strongest wind I ever heard hit our place last summer, along with a slam-bang thunderstorm. The wind was so strong that it picked up our cast-iron wash kettle (about three feet across and about two feet deep) and blew it out of the country."

"And the wind blew that kettle so fast that while it was sailing across our front yard the lightning struck it five times — and missed."

McIntyre succeeds a Texan, Harry V. Cummings of Dallas, who took the 1952 honors with a tale about mosquitoes he encountered in Korea. Although they were six feet tall they decided to devour him on the spot because they feared that "if we carry him home the big mosquitoes will take him away from us."

Another Texan, L. C. McRoberts of Kingsville, this year won honorable mention with this whopper: "During drought years on the south Texas coast, Baffin Bay becomes so salty that the fishermen use a bottle of fresh water, with Ray Chitwood, Lost Creek, Wash., also rated honorable mention. He wrote:

"Last fall I pretty near got shot while deer hunting. Coming around a bend in the trail I saw a large buck standing, looking away from me."

"I shot the deer in the back of the head. He turned around so quick to see where the shot came from that the bullet came out between his eyes and went right back into the rifle barrel."

Honorable mention was awarded to William Robinson, Lancaster, Pa., for this one:

"Another fellow and I were building a house. When we were putting on the siding I noticed that he was throwing away about half the nails."

"So I said, 'What's the matter with those nails you are throwing away?'"

"The ones I am throwing away have heads on the wrong end," he replied.

"That made me mad."

"You big fool," I told him. "Don't you know these are the ones we use for the other side of the house?"

County Steer Club Members Get Pointers On Raising Beeves

LISBON — Looking toward the 109th Columbiana County fair next fall, 70 Steer Club members and parents were given feeding pointers Wednesday night from a herdsman at the Hillcrest Farm at Chester, W. Va.

The club, the largest since it was organized 10 years ago, has 64 members who are raising a total of 88 steers.

William Burlton, a former 4-H Club member, speaking at Guilford Grange Hall, outlined the basic principles that Hillcrest farm employs to produce top show beeves.

He told the 4-H members and Future Farmers of America that some of these principles may not be practical with one or two club steers.

Burlton's major tips were: (1) start the young animals out on light feed, including coarse ground oats and a little corn and protein feed. (2) Halter-break the calves early for easy handling. (3) Brush the animal every day. (4) Water three times a day before feeding. (5) Train the beef early so he will perform well in front of judges. (6) Take care of the animal's sore feet promptly.

Nine new members of the 10-member fair club committee, made up of six adults and four club members, were elected, Emory Holloway of RD, Hanoverton was the only committeeman held over.

Adult members elected are Dan Saling of RD 1, Lisbon, William Werner of RD 2, Salem, Chester Roof of Salem, George Phillips of RD 3, Salem and Fred Hahlen of East Rochester.

The club members elected were John Hawkins of Lisbon, Marion Kitzmiller and Cecil Hahn of Homeworth and Roger Kelch of RD 5, Lisbon.

Harry Smith, associate county farm agent, said there are 14 Angus, six Shorthorns and 69 Hereford beeves being raised this year with "excellent steer in each breed."

The majority of the animals were bought in October at the Waynesburg, Pa. steer sale and weighed about 400 pounds per animal. Smith discussed the importance of keeping feed and gain records.

Senate Studies Subpoena Rule

Knowland Denies Plan To Curb McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today the Senate Republican Policy Committee may study a change in subpoena rules, but he declared there is no GOP move afoot to curb the scope of investigations by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Knowland, the Senate majority leader, said in an interview the policy group may look into the wisdom of requiring approval by a committee quorum (a fixed number of members that varies by committee) before issuance of any subpoena for witnesses or documents.

This issue was raised last month when Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) acted alone in signing a subpoena for former President Truman to testify before the House Un-American Activities Committee in the Harry Dexter White case. Truman refused to honor the subpoena, not because of the way it was issued, but on the ground that Congress may not require an ex-President to testify.

Although there has been no comparable action in the Senate, Knowland said he thinks it might be wise to clarify the rules on this point.

There has been unconfirmed talk that some Republican leaders would like to curb the far-flung investigation activities of McCarthy's permanent investigations subcommittee. Some members of the Senate internal security subcommittee grumbled privately that McCarthy was encroaching on their field of hunting for Communists.

Knowland said he hadn't heard of any move among Republicans to limit McCarthy's activities. He added, however, that he doesn't know what the Democrats may propose.

Ken Rosewall Defeats Seixas, Australia Retains Davis Cup

Youth, 19, Gives Australians 4th Straight Davis Cup Win

MELBOURNE (AP) — Ken Rosewall, a pint-sized racquet rifleman of 19, saved the coveted Davis Cup for Australia today by mowing down America's depressed Wimbledon champion, Vic Seixas, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4 in the climactic fifth match of the Challenge Round.

Nervous as a kitten at first, but inhaling confidence as Seixas fell into the simplest errors, the dark-haired Sydney youngster swept past his opponent in 93 minutes to give the Aussies a 3-2 victory and their 11th triumph since the series started in 1900.

This was the fourth straight year the lads from Down Under have beaten off the Yanks in the Challenge Round. The Americans won from 1946 through 1949.

Although neither Rosewall nor Seixas played above-average tennis in the technical sense of the word, it was a good match from a competitive standpoint and the crowd of 17,500 that filled every seat in the Kooyong stadium got a big kick out of it.

Right down to the final point there was doubt about the winner. In the second game of the final set, Seixas whipped into a 40-15 lead on Rosewall's service and looked to be about to break Ken's delivery for the second time in a row.

But the Australian had the weapons to run it out although Seixas fought off three match points. Vic went down fighting, but, at times he was discouraged by seemingly adverse decisions. He simply didn't have the ground strokes to win.

When it was all over, the spectators gave young Rosewall a standing cheer and showered the center court with seat cushions. Officials appealed repeatedly for order but the fans in the huge three-tier oval burst into a wild frenzy and ignored the appeals.

Rosewall deserved everything. The youngster came back from a severe case of Davis Cup jitters that which forced Captain Harry Hopman to bench him in the doubles to play.

Jayvees Average 69 Points Per Game

After defeating the Sebring Jayvees for their sixth straight victory, the Quaker understudies are now averaging exactly 69 points a game.

The "Little Quakers" have collected a total of 414 points in six games while their opponents have managed 309. Last year, after a half-dozen contests, the locals had a 4-2 record and were averaging 49 points a game. Their opponents had 283 markers.

Richard Hunter leads the Salem scoring with 58 points in four games. Jerry Myers follows with 52 markers. Dale Middeker and Bobby Early each have hooped 47 while Ken Bosu now playing with the varsity squad, has 32 in two games.

All of the players going to the floor for the Karl Zellers-coached reserves have scored. With the Jayvees running up high scores in most of their games, Zellers has made it a practice to clear the bench, giving everyone a chance to play.

Lee Honored As Amateur Athlete Of '53

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Major Sammy Lee, twice an Olympic platform diving champion but inactive all year, is the 1953 winner of the James E. Sullivan Memorial Trophy as amateur athlete of the year.

Stationed in Korea with the Army Medical Corps, the ear-nose-throat specialist has been unable to compete in any 1953 national championship. The 5-foot-2 American-born Korean is the first diver to get the award and the oldest winner at the age of 33.

Lee practically wrote himself out of the competition in a letter to Jesse Abramson, New York Herald Tribune track expert. "I know that I will not win it," he wrote of the Sullivan Award. "I did not compete in any national championships this year . . . whoever wins the award this year will certainly feel a little embarrassed I'm sure. As for me, I'm darned proud of being mentioned."

The major won easily from the field of eight, certified by the Sullivan Memorial Committee of which Avery Brundage is chairman.

Absent from the list, because their amateur status is being investigated, were Mai Whitfield, two-time Olympic 800-meter champ and world record holder for 880 yards, and Wes Santee, the University of Kansas' 4:02.4 mile. Whitfield got seven write-in votes for first and Santee four write-ins for second.

Lee, however, received 247 firsts of the 631 ballots cast by a tribunal of sports authorities. On a 5-3-1 point basis, Lee had 1,676 points. Last year he was runnerup to track star Horace Ashenfelter.

The award is made by the A.A.U. to "the amateur athlete who, by performance, example and good influence, did most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year."

A distant second to Lee was another diver, Mrs. Patrick Keller McCormick of Los Angeles with 94 firsts and 1,045 points. Mrs. McCormick scored a springboard platform double in the 1952 Olympics.

Lattner Able To Play In East-West Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The East was jubilant today and the West a little bit blue on the last day of drills for their clash Saturday in the annual Shrine all-star charity football game.

The East is favored by a touch down. The varying moods were the result largely of the outcome of injuries to All-Americans Johnny Lattner and Sam Morley.

Lattner, who twisted a shoulder in scrimmage Tuesday, definitely has returned to form and the East will be able to take full advantage of the hard-running back from Notre Dame.

The West plans to rely largely on its aerial game. One of the hottest pass combinations in the nation this year was Stanford's quarterback Bob Garrett to end Morley. But Morley's knee, injured in the last game of the season, has given out twice in practice for this post-season classic. West coaches are resigned to the fact that if Morley can play for even one quarter they'll be lucky.

Mize Signs As Richmond Part-Time Coach

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Johnny Mize, who retired as a pinch-hitter deluxe with the world champion New York Yankees after the 1953 season, today was signed as a part-time coach for Richmond's if-and-when International League baseball team.

The announcement of Mize's signing came from Mize's home in DeLeon Springs, Fla., and was made by Harry C. Seibold, industrialist who will operate the city's Triple A franchise—if it is obtained.

Sooners, MSC Bowl Favorites

Rice, Georgia Tech Also Picked To Win

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Employing once more the practically infallible Talbot system which enabled us during the past year to predict Roland LaSanza's ascension to the heavyweight title and Native Dancer's runaway victory in the Kentucky Derby, we are pleased to provide our readers (all both) with an exclusive preview of tomorrow's bowl games.

Orange Bowl — The Oklahoma Sooners will win that showpiece by about two touchdowns, partly because the Maryland team did not get voted the nation's No. 1 with its great quarterback, Bernie Faloney, sitting on the bench with a bad knee. No team can lose its finest back and be the same.

Rose Bowl — We'll have to go along with Michigan State until the West Coast finally proves its large, sun-kissed lads belong on the same field with the little, undernourished specimens who annually represent the Big Ten. UCLA has an authentic All America in Paul Cameron, and he has a team around him which can move the ball from the single wing. But you know how it always is. Pretty soon the Big Ten backs begin going every which way with the ball and the volume of sound from the big bowl slowly subsides.

Cotton Bowl — Rice over Alabama by anything up to three touchdowns, with All America Kossie Johnson showing off big before his first national audience.

Sugar Bowl — The crystal ball is a little clouded on this one, but we'll string with the odds makers and give Georgia Tech a split decision over West Virginia.

Gator Bowl — Texas Tech, the mighty scoring outfit from the plains country featuring Bobby Cavazos and 21 other talented backs, has to be the choice over Auburn in what should be an eye-filling offensive display.

Sun Bowl — Mississippi Southern, upstart conqueror of both those fine old gentlemen, Alabama and Georgia, rates a three-touchdown margin over Texas Western in our home town, El Paso.

Cigar Bowl — Lacrosse State over Missouri Valley.

Wrestling Scheduled For Struthers On Friday

Four wrestling events are scheduled for Struthers Fieldhouse Friday evening, featuring Ruffy Silverstein versus Roy Shire in the main event.

Silverstein and Shire will tangle in a two out of three falls bout with a one hour limit.

In the semifinal event, a "battle royale" will be staged with five women competing. The last woman standing being declared the winner.

A second bout, one fall with a 40-minute time limit, will match Ali Pasha of Turkey against Chris Belkas of Greece.

The fourth event will see Lenny Lombardy of Bensenville, Pa., facing Lou Laposki of Martins Ferry, O.

The matches are promoted by John Scott and will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Flanagan Beats Saxton On Split Decision

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Unpredictable Del Flanagan barged squarely into top welterweight contention today following a split decision over Johnny Saxton around which a broad controversy still fowed.

Flanagan, sixth ranked contender, abandoned his fancy footwork in the closing rounds last night in favor of a free-swinging offensive which piled loose the verdict over the 23-year-old New Yorker, No. 3 among the contenders.

Blinky Palermo, Saxton's manager, moaned the 10-round decision was wrong and issued a challenge for a return bout on "neutral ground."

It appeared probable Palermo would get his wish some time in the future. Truman Gibson, International Boxing Club secretary, said after the bout Flanagan definitely figures now in the welterweight picture.

He hinted champion Kid Gavilan is ready to desert the 147-pound class to become a middleweight, opening the welter division to a free-for-all involving Carmen Basilio, Flanagan, Saxton and others.

Flanagan, 25, won the fight by tearing into Saxton in the final four rounds after the expressionless New Yorker seemed to get stronger in the middle rounds.

Under the Minnesota scoring system awarding 10 points to a round winner, referee Johnny De Otis gave it to Flanagan, 98-93; Judge Britt Gorman scored it 97-95 for Flanagan and Judge Johnny Stanton voted for Saxton, 94-92.

St. Francis Wins Youngstown Tourney

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—St. Francis College of Loretto, Pa., and the school's crack center, Maurice Stokes, held top honors today in the Kiwanis Club's first invitational basketball tournament.

The Pennsylvania team swept through Westminster College of New Wilmington, Pa., 79-55, last night to end the three-day event that drew eight teams.

Stokes was selected by coaches of participating teams as the most valuable player of the tournament. In earlier play, St. Francis defeated Denison, 77-67, and Muskingum, 90-62.

Youngstown College won the consolation play, downing Muskingum, 97-89.

Other teams that took part in the tournament were Mount Union, Baldwin-Wallace and Geneva (Pa.).

Michigan State Stopped By Southern Cal 75-73

CHICAGO (AP)—The last of the Big Ten's undefeated basketball teams, Michigan State, was toppled, 75-73, by Southern California at Los Angeles last night. The Big Ten broke even in the night's play, however, as Iowa defeated UCLA, 65-60.

The Spartans take on UCLA tonight while Iowa will face the Trojans.

Other New Year Eve games will send Michigan to Marquette, and Notre Dame to Northwestern.

Leetonia, Purity Dairy, Dems Win City League Contests

Leetonia swamped Del Favero's 91-50 and Purity won over Owens 52-46 last night in Class B play at the Memorial Building.

The Democrats routed Belsebs 49-17 in the only girls game. Dan Dee forfeited to Konnerth and the Leetonia girls forfeited to the Republicans.

Joe Guido paced the high scoring Leetonia cagers with 33 markers on 15 field goals and three free tosses. Gallo had 19 and Briden, 18 for the winners. Bob Lutsch was high for DelFavero's with 24 points.

Leetonia led 41-21 at the half and then added 50 more points during the last two periods. Del Favero's managed 29 points the second half. The winners hooped 36 points in the last quarter.

Purity led the scoring for three quarters with Owens getting 15 to the Dairy's 12 in the last quarter. Dave Roller tallied 15 points to lead the Purity squad. Ed Sullivan had 14 for Owens.

The Dairy held a 28-22 lead at the half and 40-31 going into the final stanza.

With Grace Miller leading the way with 31 points on 13 field goals and five charity tosses, the Dems had little trouble in downing Belsebs. Peg Greiner had four points for the losers, as did Mary Schwartzhoff.

The Dems had a 15-7 lead at the half and increased it to 32-14 at the end of the third quarter.

West Kentucky, Duquesne Gain Holiday Tournament Victories

By BEN PHLEGAR
NEW YORK (AP)—Four major basketball powers held new laurels today as they added holiday tournament titles to their unbeaten records.

Western Kentucky, the winningest school playing a major schedule, ran its string to an even dozen with an 89-71 triumph over Louisville in the final of the Kentucky Invitational at Louisville.

Duquesne and Rice extended their streaks to 10 each. The towering Dukes from Pittsburgh whipped Niagara 66-61 with jumping Dick Ricketts hitting for 30 points in the Garden Holiday Festival in New York.

Gene Schwinger and Joe Durrenberg combined in a late rally that gave Rice a 65-58 decision over Texas in the final of the Southwest Conference Tournament at Houston. Schwinger scored 24 points and 84 in the three-game run.

Holy Cross won the Sugar Bowl Tournament with its seventh consecutive victory, 66-56 over defending champion Louisiana State.

Kansas, last season's losing NCAA finalist but an early disappointment this winter, captured the Big Seven Tournament in a rough battle with Oklahoma 82-73.

Navy, the surprise of the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, where it beat defending champion North Carolina State in the semifinals, ran out of gas against Duke in the final and bowed 98-83.

In the Capital Tournament at Arlington, Va., George Washington solved Richmond's zone defense after a rough first half and won the title with an 8-67 romp.

Connecticut surprised previously unbeaten Dartmouth 70-58 for the New England Tournament title at Hanover, N. H.

Oklahoma A&M dumped Oklahoma City University from the unbeaten ranks in the semifinals of the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City with a 65-50 victory. The Aggies will meet Santa Clara, 59-51 conqueror of Wyoming for the title tonight.

At Jacksonville, Fla., the University of Georgia won the Gator Bowl Tournament by upsetting Georgia Teachers 80-69.

Close Battles Are Predicted In Five Major Bowl Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Close observers figured today a total of seven touchdowns should decide the five major New Year's Day football bowl games.

Three of the contests—the Rose, the Orange and the Gator—looked close enough that the winning margin in each might be a touchdown or less.

The Sugar Bowl and the Cotton Bowl appeared a little more one-sided, although not by more than a couple of touchdowns apiece.

Maryland continues to rate a slight nod over Oklahoma in the Miami Orange Bowl clash between what on paper are the two highest ranking clubs. The unbeaten Terrapins of Jim Tatum won 10 games in gaining the No. 1 rating in the Associated Press poll.

Oklahoma lost its opener by a touchdown to Notre Dame and was tied by Pittsburgh but wound up No. 4.

The condition of Bernie Faloney's left knee may make this game even closer. Faloney injured the knee in his last regular game against Alabama and it's not right yet, although trainer Duke Wyre says he will be available for some action.

Michigan State figures to start a new Big Ten winning streak in the Rose bowl at the expense of UCLA but it isn't nearly as strong a favorite as the Midwest clubs are at Pasadena. UCLA pins its hopes on All-America Paul All America Kosse Johnson of

REFEREE

By DR. PHOG ALLEN
Kansas Coach

Question: Can a player on Team A, taking the ball out-of-bounds under Team B's basket, throw to a teammate stationed out - of-bounds, or must the ball be thrown in-bounds?

Answer: The ball can be thrown to an out-of-bounds mate if it does not require more than the allotted five seconds to toss it in-bounds. This caused a great stir at Madison Square Garden a few years ago, when Oklahoma worked it against City College of New York. The player under the basket threw to an in-bounds player, who ran off the court lateral to him. Then the first player received the return pass.

Q. Cliff Hagan of Kentucky scored 51 points in an early season game against Temple. What's his height?

A. Hagan is only six-four, but Adolph Rupp's boy jumps as high as one of those six-nine or 10 giants.

Q. Who originated the pivot shot?

A. Credit generally is given Dutch Dehnert, center of the Original Celtics in the 1920s.

Question: Can traveling be called against a player for diving at a loose ball?

Answer: I don't believe it should be called. But it happened to St. Louis during this winter's Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden. The referee ruled traveling on a Billiken against Philadelphia LaSalle. It was the first time Eddie Hickey of the Billikens remembered such a call in all his years of coaching.

The Detroit Lions established a new National Football League home attendance record during the 1953 season by playing before 315,609 fans in six home games.

DANCING 9:00 TILL 1:00

SUNDAY — BENNY JONES

Sullivan, each old enough to remember the real thing, should whisper to the TV idea men that this isn't it.

TV fumbles at the very start by tossing in a master of ceremonies to introduce the acts. The master of ceremonies, or Emcee in the better joints, is essentially a product of the night clubs.

The popularity of a night club Emcee is in direct ratio to the alcoholic content of the customers. At the 1 a.m. show, when radiator reading are highest, any Emcee merely has to turn up his trousers legs, pull a felt hat over his ears and walk pigeon-toed.

That will start everyone not already there rolling on the floor.

This may explain why so many comedians switching from the floor shows to television fall right on their feds in the ratings.

In vaudeville the business of introducing the acts was delegated to two panels of electric light bulbs on each side of the proscenium arch. They quietly spelled out "A". The patron referred to "A" on his printed program and learned that Nick and Chris, acrobats, would be the first offering.

The curtain rose and revealed Nick and Chris, handsome in white tights, already moving into a procession of handstands, quick tumbles and bounces.

After Nick and Chris had worked the audience to a high note of applause by failing at their best trick two or three times before engineering it, the curtain came down. The panel of lights spelled out "B" and the show continued.

At no time during the performance did the panel of lights try to muscle into the act. It told no jokes. It had no felt hat. It just stayed dark.

Television may go to color or even 3D but will it ever be able to reproduce the thrill generated by the Chinese tightrope climber?

This particular Chinese was not content to dance about on a horizontal rope or wire. He had a production that today would be classed as audience participation.

After scaring the wits out of everyone by juggling Oriental hatchets and knives like beer bottles, this performer tied a small grooved pillow to the top of his head. Then, with a parasol in one hand and a fan in the other, he walked at a 45-degree angle along a rope stretching from the footlights to the balcony.

En route he faked several missteps and near falls, torturing the customers in the expensive main floor seats. Finally, at the end of his line, he bent over and planted his pillowed head on the wire. To the accompaniment of a siren whistle blown by the drummer, he slid at high speed back to the stage.

That, Mr. Network, was vaudeville.

And even though the theaters had no popcorn stands in the lobby, no customers ever starved to death. All one had to do was dig into a pocket for a nickel and insert it in a small box attached to the seat ahead. At the turn of a knob out popped a delicious chocolate bar.

Chorus Plans Program For PTA Meeting

LEETONIA — The next P.T.A. meeting will be held Monday evening at 8, with president Burt Co-burn in charge.

The program will include selec-tions by the High School Chorus and a demonstration of physical education teaching. A prize will be given for the room having the most representatives present. Lunch will be served.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold their annual New Year's Eve Celebration tonight with danc-ing from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Music will be by Bill Jackson and his Rhythmaires.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ginther and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hu-ber and daughter of Coraopolis, Pa., visited recently with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gin-ther.

Miss Margaret Shewood of Pitts-burgh spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shewood.

Mrs. Elden Holt, Miss Florence Wilhelm and Mrs. Richard Cook and daughter of Salem visited on Tuesday with Mrs. Holt's daugh-ter, Mr. and Mrs. George Lance and daughter of Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Gotthardt were recent visitors of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robson of East Palestine.

Vincent Lavelle Jr. of Toledo is spending the holidays with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Lavelle.

FINED ON DOG CHARGE

D. C. Steele of Salineville, ar-rested by Humane Officer A. H. Fu-lts and Dog Warden Russell Reichenbach and charged with cruelty to and neglect of his dogs, was fined $15 and costs Monday by Lisbon Justice of the Peace Felix Butch.

COURT HAS SURPLUS

ZANESVILLE, Ohio — Mus-kington County commissioners yes-terday reported a $44,000 surplus to start the new year. Zanesville the county seat, ended 1953 with a $65,000 surplus.

Income Tax

may pave the way for expansion—especially for newer and smaller firms, which can retain more of any expanded earnings.

30% Of Income

The excess profits tax has been 30 per cent of income above a standard set by law. Piled on top of the regular 52 per cent corpora-tion income tax, it has imposed a levy of 82 per cent on some cor-porate income.

After tomorrow, the income tax payroll withholding rate will be reduced from 20 per cent to 18 per cent of income, after allowances for personal exemptions and de-pendents. Some 46 million workers are subject to withholding.

The increase in social security taxes also will be reflected in the first pay checks after tomorrow. It amounts to a maximum of $18 a year on $3,600 income.

The "break even" point—where the two changes almost offset each other—is roughly as follows:

A single man with no depend-ents, $900 income; a married cou-ple with no dependents, $1,800; married couple with one depend-ent, $2,700; married couple with two dependents, $3,600; married couple with three dependents, $4,500.

Most taxpayers in those situa-tions making more than those amounts will have a net increase in take-home pay. Below those fig-ures, they will take a net loss unless and until Congress cancels the social security hike.

Judge Tobin Fines Poolroom Operator

LISBON — Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin sounded a stern warning to poolroom operators today when he hailed an East Liverpool recrea-tion hall owner into court and fined him a total of $100 and costs.

Handed the penalty was William R. Sprouse, 60, who was cited by East Liverpool police Monday night for allowing two East Liverpool youths, age 15 and 16, to shoot pool at his place on Market St.

The judge suspended a 6-month jail sentence. Sprouse was charged with contributing to the delinquen-cy of minors by Probation Officer Chris Pusey, who said the man-ager had been warned on three pre-vious occasions to keep youngsters out of his place.

The law requires that anyone playing pool in a billiard hall must be 18 or over.

Judge Tobin said that any other poolroom owners brought before him on a similar charge would be sentenced to jail. He ordered the two high school students to keep out of poolrooms.

COUNCIL TO MEET TONIGHT

No U. S. Lynchings Reported In 1953

TUSKEGEE, Ala. — For the second year in a row, there were no lynchings in the United States in 1953, Tuskegee Institute announced yesterday.

But the famed Negro college said it is dropping its annual lynching report for a more realistic index of race relations.

Hereafter racial progress will be measured with a new formula using economic, political, education and similar factors, said Dr. L. H. Foster, Tuskegee's president. Dr. Foster said mob violence is no longer a valid index of race relations and that lynchings have lost their significance as a yard-stick of race relations because of 'changes in the status of the Negro and the development of other extra-legal means of control, such as bombings, incendiarism, threats and intimidation, etc.'

The Tuskegee president said the study will like compare white and Negro standards in four categories—income relationship, voter partici-pation, education, and employ-ment.

County Issues Only 30 Restaurant Licenses

LISBON — Dr. Robert M. Dun-lap, who leaves the seat of county health commissioner today, said that only 30 of the 257 food handling establishments in the county have applied for restaurant licenses since Monday.

The new restaurant inspection law will go into effect in the county next Thursday rather than Jan. 1 because the law requires that legal notice of county health board's passage of the law be pub-lished 10 days following a first no-tice which appeared Monday.

Dunlap said there are 173 res-taurants, 63 churches and 21 schools that serve food in the coun-ty. Establishments serving more than 52 days a year are charged a license fee of $30 and all others will pay $10.

Unemployment Rises Slightly Above 1952

By The Associated Press
Recent and planned layoffs of employees in industry and railroads which employ nearly 20 million workers, total 53,000 a survey has disclosed.

The nation's total unemployed, as of November, was 1,428,000, an increase of only 10,000 from Nov-ember 1952. Of the 61,925,000 workers in all gainful occupations in November, 16,711,000 were in manufacturing industries and 2,956,000 in railroads.

FINED BY MAYOR VINCENT

Charles M. Ray, Jr., 36, of 1280 Hollyhook Way was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Harry M. Vincent Wednesday on a charge of dispos-ing of garbage unlawfully. State Highway Patrolmen said Ray placed garbage on land adjoining State Highway 558 early Wednes-day afternoon.

2 Gunmen Rob Cleveland Bank Of $16,000

CLEVELAND — Two men, carry-ing three guns and wearing silk stockings over their heads, robbed the Memphis Avenue branch of the Bank of Ohio of about $16,000 a few minutes after it opened today.

Eleven bank employees and two customers were in the bank dur-ing the three or four minute hold-up. The gunmen spurned large de-nomination bills and left plenty of additional cash in easy reach as they filled a torn and dirty paper shipping bag with currency.

They dashed out to a parking lot, drove a car around buildings to another part of the lot, got into a second auto waiting there and sped north toward the downtown area on Fulton Road.

Joseph E. Nagy, 45, the bank manager, said he was sitting at his desk when one of the men jammed two guns in his face and told him to sit still.

Nagy said they announced: "This is a holdup—everybody line up against the wall. If you give us any trouble, we'll shoot your boss."

In addition to Nagy, there were four tellers, four bookkeepers, an assistant manager and two custom-ers in the bank at the time, and another woman employee entered during the robbery.

In spite of the gunmen's warn-ing, four women employees ran to the basement where one of them tripped an alarm signal.

Auditor A. C. Meibuh estimated the cash stolen at about $16,000. Assistant manager Richard L. Coakwell said the holdup men took some cash, "but not much—they left a lot of it lying around."

statement today he would "intro-duce legislation the very first in-stance I can" to prevent the pro-gram from being carried out.

But even if Congress should block or drastically curb the pro-gram, there remained the facts of Knowland's unequivocal opposi-tion to it and the as yet unap-praised effect the incident might have on Democratic support for Eisenhower's legislative program.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said the President seemed to be "doing everything in his power calculated to drive the Democrats away from giving him support on his pro-gram." Actually, a few Northern Democrats praised the unemploy-ment move; the opposition was concentrated in the South.

May Hit Textile Firms

Southern Democrats have also condemned the policy on grounds it deprives the Southern textile in-dustry of government contracts and places them in New England towns hard hit by unemployment. Knowland told a news confer-ence late yesterday the order "needs curtailment" and "leaves the door open too wide" for gov-ernment orders to be set aside from normal procurement methods and channelled into jobless areas.

Last summer, during Senate de-bate on the issue, he favored an amendment which would have for-bidden the letting of government contracts to anyone other than the lowest bidder. He did not say yesterday whether he would go that far now.

Observers could not immediately recall an instance when a major-ity leader, on the eve of a new Congressional session, had taken public issue with his President on an Administration policy and sided with a powerful segment of the opposition party.

Democrats outnumber Republi-cans, 48 to 47, in the Senate. The 96th seat is held by Sen. Morse of Oregon, an independent.

U. S. Bans Publishing Of Romanian Paper

WASHINGTON — The State De-partment today ordered the Ro-manian legation "to stop publica-tion of a newspaper and other com-munist publications in the United States immediately."

A Department statement said the action was taken as a result of the Romanian government's ban-ning of a monthly publication is-sued by the American legation in Bucharest on Dec. 29. This pub-lication, called "News From Amer-ica" and printed in Romanian, was first issued last October with a circulation of about 150 copies, the State Department said.
